

Smith + Nephew UFC Combat Sports Medicine Course Live Stream

Smith+Nephew

Academy

Education + Innovation + Excellence

UFC PERFORMANCE
INSTITUTE

Thursday, Feb 20, 2025

Course 7:00 am - 9:00 pm

Friday, Feb 21, 2025

Course 7:00 am - 5:00 pm

Saturday, Feb 22 - Wednesday, Feb 29, 2025

Relive Available

Location: Virtual

Course Description

Through panel discussions and lectures, attendees will develop skills and knowledge related to the treatment of sports medicine shoulder, hip, knee, foot and ankle, trauma, wound, and ENT pathologies in combat sports athletes. Attendees will work alongside leading experts to learn more about current trends and techniques in combat sports medicine.

Learning Objectives

At the completion of this course, participants will be able to:

- Describe strategies for treating shoulder instability in combat athletes.
- Identify when to repair the meniscus in combat athletes.
- Identify appropriate ACL management and graft selection in combat athletes.
- Describe the basic science and patient indications for biologics in combat athletes.
- Evaluate complex hip instability and impingement for combat athletes and describe surgical solutions and return to sport guidelines.
- Identify ankle instability and Achilles treatment algorithms for combat athletes.
- Describe techniques for wound, ear, and nose injury management in combat athletes.

Intended Audience

This course is designed for intermediate to advanced sports medicine surgeons who treat or are interested in treating combat sports athletes.

Registration Questions: Leah Hurley
Leah.hurley@smith-nephew.com

Program Manager: Katherine Antoniak
Katherine.antoniak@smith-nephew.com

Course Chair

Michael Banffy, MD

Cedars-Sinai Kerlan-Jobe
Institute
Los Angeles, CA

CLICK/SCAN TO REGISTER

Smith+Nephew

5017 East Washington Street, Phoenix, AZ 85034 | USA

smith-nephew.com/education

T: 1-978-741-1000

Information: 1-800-821-5700, Orders: 1-800-238-7538

◇ Trademark of Smith+Nephew. All Trademarks acknowledged

©2022 Smith+Nephew